

The New York Times
Times Square

November 6, 1934

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
The White House,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

We had the pleasure of the company of Joseph P. Kennedy, Chairman of the Securities Commission, at luncheon yesterday. He made a most favorable impression on our editors and showed a thorough grasp of the matters within his jurisdiction. He impressed us with his keen sense of the necessities of the situation.

With regards,

Always sincerely yours,
Louis Wiley