December 31, 2013

Dear Friends:

On behalf of my fellow trustees of the SEC Historical Society, it is a privilege to share with you the 2013 Annual Report.

This report recognizes and thanks the many people who make possible our work in sharing, preserving, and advancing knowledge of the history of financial regulation through our virtual museum and archive at www.sechistorical.org. Those who visit the museum, those who generously give to ensure its building and outreach, those who advocate for its use, and those who ensure quality governance and fiduciary responsibility for the organization are all key contributors to the Society’s continued success.

As a member of the Board of Trustees since 2010, and during my tenure as Board President, I have been grateful to work with outstanding leaders, donors and academics. It is the goal of each trustee and President to leave the Society in better standing at the end of his or her term. I can attest that this 2013-14 Board has shared with me and with you great dedication to ensure the long-term growth of our work.

Next September, the Society will mark the 15th anniversary of its founding. The progress that we have achieved over this decade and a half has been tremendous. It would not have happened without the sustained and generous gifts of time, energy, ideas and monies from so many over the years. My fellow trustees join me in gratitude for the support of all whose contributions are recognized in this Annual Report.

I encourage you to continue with us in our important work.

Sincerely,

Bruce C. Bennett
2013-14 President
2013 was a transformational year for the virtual museum and archive of the history of financial regulation at www.sechistorical.org, as it entered its second decade of service.

Visitors Set Records
The museum welcomed a record 593,532 visitors for 2013, a 75% increase over 2012. The museum attracted increasing daily visitor totals as the year progressed, reaching a high of 4,788 visitors on November 22nd, and exceeded 100,000 monthly visitors for the first time in December.

Visitors continued to represent the museum’s core constituencies: regulators from federal, state, municipal and international agencies; self-regulators; practitioners from corporations and law, accounting and auditing, and financial services firms; and academics – both professors and students.

With the average museum visit in 2013 exceeding 22 minutes, visitors were able to access and download a record 1.5 million copies of museum materials.

Expanding Museum Support
The virtual museum and archive attracted significant funding support for specific museum building projects this year. The Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board committed as sole sponsor of the Gallery on municipal securities regulation, to permanently open in the museum in December 2015 in recognition of MSRB’s 40th anniversary. The Gallery will build on MSRB’s past support for the growth of the museum, including the addition of municipal securities regulation developments to the Timeline in 2008, and sponsorship of the April 2011 Fireside Chat – Pay to Play program.

FTI Consulting, Inc. became the new sponsor of the program series on current economic issues in financial regulation, to debut next November.

Bingham McCutchen LLP renewed as multi-year sponsor of Bingham Presents, its program series broadcast on www.sechistorical.org each September on current issues in financial regulation of interest to the legal profession.

The Deloitte Fireside Chats – interactive programs on financial regulation for the accounting and auditing professions – will broadcast through October 2016, thanks to the sustained support of Deloitte LLP.

Sidley Austin LLP entered into a multi-year commitment to sponsor oral histories interviews for the museum collection. Morrison & Foerster LLP became the first to sponsor a museum Feature when it committed to fund the August 2014 Back to School Feature.

In total, dedicated museum support – both designated for specific museum projects and for general support of the museum’s growth and outreach – represented a record 62% of all contributions made in 2013.

Growth of the Museum
In addition to direct museum support, over 82% of all unrestricted 2013 gifts and grants were used for museum building and outreach this year. That support enabled the virtual museum and archive to significantly expand the collection, adding more than 700 new materials in 2013 and bringing the total collection to just over 6,600.

Primary research was completed for the Center for Audit Quality Gallery on Corporate Governance, to open in December 2014, and began for The Open Door: Roles of Women in Securities Regulation Gallery, to open in May 2015. The museum committed to open a Gallery on the role of the executive branch of government in financial regulation in December 2016.

Twenty-eight oral histories interviews were conducted during the year, alphabetically from Katherine Addleman to Geraldine Walsh. More than half of the interviews were with women who had served at or currently work with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and/or NASD/FINRA, as part of the building of The Open Door Gallery, significantly expanding the representation of women in the Oral Histories section. The museum debuted its annual Women in Financial Regulation Feature in March, in recognition of International Women’s Day that month, and featured some of the women who have shared their remembrances with the museum.

The museum also welcomed the support of Winton Capital Management Limited in sponsoring an interview with David Harding, its founder.

The Timeline had its largest expansion to date in 2013, adding four dozen new developments in financial regulation, inspired by The Richard C. Adkerson...
A re-design of the museum infrastructure facilitated visitor use on tablet computers, and gave more prominence to Features and online giving.

A New Decade of Service

The virtual museum and archive at www.sechistorical.org now stands as the premier, trusted and permanent online resource of the history of financial regulation.

Its founding principles of transparency and disclosure; its free and constant accessibility worldwide; its trusted collection of original, first-hand materials from verified sources; and its integration of knowledge from across the wide spectrum of financial regulation – all continue to ensure the virtual museum and archive’s integrity.

Thank you for keeping the virtual museum and archive independent, and helping to share and preserve its valuable knowledge.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

To the Board of Trustees
Securities and Exchange Commission
Historical Society
Washington, D.C.

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Securities and Exchange Commission Historical Society (the Society), which comprise the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2013, and the related statements of activities and change in net assets, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Society as of December 31, 2013, and the change in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited the Society’s 2012 financial statements, and we expressed an unmodified audit opinion on those audited financial statements in our report dated March 20, 2013. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended December 31, 2012, is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND GENERAL INFORMATION

Organization
The Securities and Exchange Commission Historical Society (the Society) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, incorporated in the District of Columbia. The Society shares, preserves and advances knowledge of the history of financial regulation through its virtual museum and archive at www.sechistorical.org. The Society is independent of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and receives no funding from the public sector. Significant accounting policies followed by the Society are presented below.

The Society operated the following program in 2013:

Virtual Museum and Archive: The virtual museum and archive serves as the premier, trusted and permanent resource of the history of financial regulation. The museum is built and exhibited independent of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. It is free and accessible worldwide at all times, and welcomed 593,532 visitors in 2013.

Basis of presentation
The accompanying financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting, and in accordance with FASB ASC 958, Not-for-Profit Entities.

The financial statements include certain prior-year summarized comparative information in total but not by net asset class. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with the Society’s financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2012, from which the summarized information was derived.

Cash and cash equivalents
The Society considers all cash and other highly liquid investments with initial maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Bank deposit accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) up to a limit of $250,000. At times during the year the Society maintains cash balances in excess of the FDIC insurance limits. Management believes the risk in these situations to be minimal.

Investments
Investments are recorded at their readily determinable fair value. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in interest and investment income in the Statement of Activities and Change in Net Assets.

Grants and contributions receivable
Grants and contributions receivable are recorded at their net realizable value, which approximates fair value. Grants and contributions receivable that are expected to be collected in future years are recorded at fair value, measured as the present value of their future cash flows. The discounts on these amounts are computed using risk-adjusted interest rates applicable to the years in which the promises are received. Amortization of the discounts is included in grants and contribution revenue. Conditional promises to give are not included as support until the conditions are substantially met.

Statement of Cash Flows

met. Management considers all amounts to be fully collectible. Accordingly, an allowance for doubtful accounts has not been established. All grants and contributions receivable are expected to be collected within two years.

Equipment and software

Equipment and software in excess of $1,500, which have been purchased, are stated at cost. Donated equipment and software are valued at its appraised value. Equipment and software are depreciated using the straight-line method. Provisions for depreciation and amortization are based on estimated useful lives of three years for software, five years for computer equipment and seven years for all other equipment. The cost of maintenance and repairs is recorded as expenses incurred.

Income taxes

The Society is exempt from Federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes has been made in the accompanying financial statements. The Society is not a private foundation.

Uncertain tax positions

For the year ended December 31, 2013, the Society has documented its consideration of FASB ASC 740-10, Income Taxes, that provides guidance for reporting uncertainty in income taxes and has determined that no material uncertain tax positions qualify for either recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.

The Federal Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax, is subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service, generally for three years after it is filed.

Net asset classification

The net assets are reported in two self-balancing groups as follows:

- Unrestricted net assets include unrestricted grants and contributions received without donor-imposed restrictions. These net assets are available for the operation of the Society and include both internally designated and undesignated resources.

- Temporarily restricted net assets include grants and contributions subject to donor-imposed stipulations that will be met by the actions of the Society and/or the passage of time. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the Statement of Activities and Change in Net Assets as net assets released from restrictions.

Grants and contributions

Grants and contributions are recorded as revenue when notification of the gift is received from the donor. Donor-restricted contributions are reported as increases in temporarily restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restrictions. When a restriction expires, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets. Donor-restricted grants and contributions received in excess of expenses incurred are shown as temporarily restricted net assets in the accompanying financial statements.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Functional allocation of expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the Statement of Activities and Change in Net Assets. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Risks and uncertainties

The Society invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rates, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the accompanying financial statements.

Fair value measurement

The Society adopted the provisions of FASB ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement. FASB ASC 820 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, establishes a fair value hierarchy based on the quality of inputs (assumptions that market participants would use in pricing assets and liabilities, including assumptions about risk) used to measure fair value, and enhances disclosure requirements for fair value measurement. The Society accounts for a significant portion of its financial instruments at fair value or considers fair value in their measurement.

5. NET ASSETS RELEASED FROM RESTRICTIONS
The following temporarily restricted net assets were released from donor restrictions by incurring expenses, which satisfied the restricted purposes specified by the donors or the passage of time:

- Center for Audit Quality: $100,000
- Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board: $50,000
- NERA Economic Consulting: $10,000
- Time restricted: $23,000

TOTAL NET ASSETS RELEASED FROM RESTRICTIONS $183,000

6. LEASE COMMITMENT
The Society entered into a 36-month lease that began on October 1, 2010, with a base rent of $5,630 per month, plus a pro-rata share of operating expenses and any increase in real estate taxes and assessments over amounts stipulated in the lease agreement, increasing by a factor of 8% per year. On June 17, 2013, the Society extended the lease for another 48 months with a base rent of $6,830 per month, increasing by a factor of 4% per year.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the total rent commitment should be recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Accordingly, the difference between the actual monthly payments and the rent expense being recognized for financial statement purposes is recorded as deferred rent abatement in the Statement of Financial Position.

Occupancy expense for the year ended December 31, 2013 totaled $78,636.

Total future minimum payments under the lease commitment are as follows:

<thead>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TOTAL $327,550

7. VIRTUAL MUSEUM AND ARCHIVE COLLECTION
The Society has capitalized the collection of the virtual museum and archive since the museum’s inception in June 2002.

On December 31, 2013, the museum collection totaled 6,618 primary materials: papers, photos, oral histories, programs, film, radio and television media; Timeline developments; and Gallery essays. No materials were deaccessioned from the collection in 2013.

For the year ended December 31, 2013, costs incurred in building the collection of the virtual museum and archive totaled $216,084. As of December 31, 2013, the accumulated costs incurred in building the virtual museum and archive totaled $1,658,655.

The fair market value of the virtual museum and archive, as of June 30, 2012, is in excess of the carrying value at December 31, 2013.

8. SAVINGS PLAN
The Society maintains a Savings Plan (the Plan) under Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code for its employees. The Society makes matching contributions of 100% of elected employee deferrals up to the maximum limits as stipulated by the Internal Revenue Code. Employees are 100% vested upon entry into the Plan. For the year ended December 31, 2013, contributions to the Plan totaled $31,465.

9. BOARD DESIGNATED NET ASSETS
The Board of Trustees of the Society established a $500,000 Board designated fund to assure continuation of the Society. The value of this fund at December 31, 2013 was $777,970. The fund is comprised of certificates of deposit, corporate bonds and exchange-traded funds totaling $776,463 and money funds totaling $1,507, included in investments and cash and cash equivalents, respectively, in the accompanying Statement of Financial Position.

10. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT
In accordance with FASB ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement, the Society has categorized its financial instruments, based on the priority of the inputs to the valuation technique, into a three-level fair value hierarchy. The fair value hierarchy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3).

If the inputs used to measure the financial instruments fall within different levels of hierarchy, the categorization is based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement of the instrument. Investments recorded in the Statement of Financial Position are categorized based on the inputs to valuation techniques as follows:

- Level 1: These are investments where values are based on unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets in an active market the Society has the ability to access.
- Level 2: These are investments where values are based on quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active, or model-based valuation techniques that utilize inputs that are observable either directly or indirectly for substantially the full term of the investments.
- Level 3: These are investments where inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

Following is a description of the valuation methodology used for investments measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2013:

- Corporate bonds – Valued at the closing price reported on the active market in which the individual securities are traded.
- Exchange-traded funds – The fair value is equal to the reported net asset value of the fund, which is the price at which additional shares can be obtained.
- Certificates of deposit – Generally valued at original cost plus accrued interest, which approximates fair value.
